

Dedication

So there you are. It's the middle of the night and your gas line's frozen and you're battery's dead from trying to start it. Who you gonna call?

For more than 50 years the answer to that question was Emeric Tanguay. He could get anywhere and he could fix anything. He never told you to wait until morning.

But that was just the tip of the iceberg. Born in Quebec in 1914, Emeric moved to Vermont with his family in 1920. He never forgot his roots – he was a favorite storyteller every year at Hardwick's French Heritage Festival.

Emeric married Jeanette Morin in 1940 and they had three children, five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Emeric and Jeanette were married for 68 years.

Emeric was also a lot of fun. He always seemed cheerful and ready for a joke. When he was a young fellow with one of the few cars in town, he was always ready to drive the local youth down to Hardwick on a Saturday night. Emeric was also a skilled dowser and he located more than one well in town.

All of us who knew Emeric will miss him. For the few who didn't know him – you would have liked him a lot.

Auditors' Statement

In accordance with VSA 24 §1681, we have examined the accounts and records of the Town of Greensboro. To the best of our knowledge, the financial statements and reports herein show the financial position of the town for fiscal year July 1, 2008, through June 30, 2009.

Next year's town report will be considerably shorter, containing only the financial reports connected to the town audit, the town meeting warning, the proposed budget, and the school reports. This shorter report will be produced at the town clerk's office, not by an outside printer.

The reports of various officers, boards, committees, or other organizations contained in this year's report will be available for viewing and downloading at Greensboro's website, www.greensborovt.com. Anyone without access to the internet will be able to view the online reports at the library. The town clerk's office will also provide printed copies upon request.

We expect that this change will:

- ✓ Cut the cost of postage by more than half.
- ✓ Eliminate printer's costs.
- ✓ Allow the auditors to focus their efforts more on auditing than publishing.
- ✓ Eliminate the printer's lead time, allowing more time for the audit and report preparation.
- ✓ Allow organizations to post updated versions of their reports at any time, without having to meet the printer's deadline, and in any format.
- ✓ Make up-to-date versions of organization reports available at any time, not just once a year.

Greensboro Selectboard Report

Jefferson Tolman, Chair

The selectboard completed its first year as a five-member board. While our monthly meetings have been extended, the additional input and insight has been welcomed and appreciated. It has been a pleasure serving with these representatives of Greensboro.

David Drown has kept himself and the road crew busy during the past year while completing a number of projects. The sidewalk in front of the Greensboro Bend post office was replaced, 3500 feet of the Craftsbury Road was reclaimed and paved, and a number of roads were widened and ditched. Dave initiated a site safety inspection of the town garage, which revealed a number of deficiencies that have now been corrected. Dave is doing an excellent job as the road supervisor, and we would like to acknowledge him and his crew for their efforts.

The selectboard voted to change the way winter driveway maintenance is performed. While everyone will continue to receive the same service as in the past, the road crew and our town equipment will not leave the town right-of-way except in the case of an emergency. The contractor responsible for driveway plowing will take on the responsibility of winging and pushing back accumulated snow in the driveways. This will result in less work and stress for our road crew who have enough to do during our long Vermont winters.

We would like to recognize and thank Junior Salls and the Greensboro Fire Department for their efforts as the GFD moves forward with the planning and design of the new fire station. They have dedicated a lot of time and energy as they continue to prepare a responsible design to present to the voters of Greensboro.

The Lamoille County Sheriff's Department is now providing dispatch service to our fire department, rescue squad and police department.

The Eligo Lake Association is moving forward with efforts to control the spread of milfoil in Eligo Lake. According to the association, Eligo will become the first lake in Vermont to use weevils as a safe, alternative method to control milfoil. The weevil larvae bore down the center of the milfoil plant, causing it to collapse upon itself. This results in shading the remaining plants from the sun and controlling the spread of milfoil.

Greensboro Town Clerk's Report

Bridget A. Collier, Town Clerk

Valdine Hall has now worked 21 years in the town offices. She was honored with a certificate of recognition from the Vermont Secretary of State.

This year's records restoration project was maps. Of our survey and historical maps, 112 were mended, de-acidified, and encapsulated in mylar sleeves by Kim Greaves and Jeanne Eisner. The total cost for this, including labor and all materials, was $1,775.19. The cost for having it done by a restoration firm would have been an average of $100 per map, which would have totaled $11,200. This realized a savings of $9,400 and will assure that our maps will continue to be available to us indefinitely. We will also be able to do some of the necessary restoration work on several more recent deed books in-house.

This year we will be working on other permanent records, including deed books, vital records, and older grand lists. We have completed restoration on slightly more than one third of our deed books and one half of our vital records.

In a related project, we are computerizing all our vital records indexes and all our deed indexes since 1984. There is little doubt that this will become a state mandate at some point in the near future. It will also make research easier for individuals and attorneys.

Greensboro Listers

Valdine Hall, Chair

The town has contracted with the Vermont Appraisal Company to conduct a town wide reappraisal. The project is well underway with a target completion date of summer 2010. I have been working closely with Bob and Tom Vickery reviewing sales and new values. After notification of your new value, we will be available to review your assessment and answer questions. If you have not yet been contacted to schedule an appointment, please call us at 802-533-2911 or email me at valdinehall@yahoo.com to set up a time to inspect your property.

Greensboro Zoning

Valdine Hall, Zoning Administrator

2009 was a fairly typical year in terms of the number of zoning applications filed. We do, however, have two appeals currently working their way through the Vermont Environmental Court.

If you have questions about your building project, please contact me. I'd be happy to review your application with you.

Greensboro Recreation Committee

Valdine Hall, Chair

Our thought for last year was to bring back the summer movies – we didn't get a lot of positive feedback on this, and the idea faded away. But there must be something that would be of interest – if there is something you'd like to participate in (and it doesn't need to be in the summer), please let us know. Meanwhile, we'll keep our thinking caps on and try to come up with an activity that will be of interest to the community.

We welcome new members and new ideas! If you'd like to help, please call me at 533-2911 or email me at valdinehall@yahoo.com.

Greensboro Recycling

Josh Karp, Coordinator

The recycling center during 2009 was busier than ever, with many new faces.

The July household hazardous waste collection was very well-attended. There is only one HHW collection in Greensboro each year; however, residents can bring their HHW to the NEK waste district headquarters in Lyndonville by appointment, from June through September, at no charge.

The recycling center was again open on Wednesday afternoons (4-6 p.m.) during the summer, and many residents seemed to appreciate this. We plan to continue this next summer.

As planning for the new fire station continues, a spot on the new fire station lot is being reserved for a recycling building. Whether this building is constructed in 2011, at a later date, or not at all, planning a space for it on the official site plan is easy to do at this stage of the process and gives the town the option to build in the future. Thank you to Junior Salls of the GFD for his ongoing help with this.

In addition to the usual recycling items, the following oddball items are accepted every week: plastic shopping bags, aerosols, fluorescent light bulbs, broken dishes and window glass, rechargeable batteries, lead sinkers and, for a fee, televisions, computers and their accessories, and small electronic devices (e.g., DVD players).

The Giving Closet, located in the town hall's community room, has become a popular place to visit after recycling and features a tempting array of used household items. It is usually open whenever the recycling center is open: Saturday mornings from 9-11 a.m. year-round and Wednesday afternoons from 4-6 p.m. in the summer.

Greensboro Planning Commission

Josh Karp, Chair

After years of work revising the town plan and zoning bylaw, the planning commission took a break during 2009. In 2010, the commission will begin work on affordable housing, a very important and challenging issue. Please get in touch with a planning commission member if you have thoughts on this or any other planning and zoning issue. You can also send a letter to the town, c/o the Greensboro Planning Commission.

The planning commission is seeking new members; get in touch with the chair if you're interested.

Town Service Officer and Health Officer

Valdine Hall

If you are experiencing a non-emergency situation and need assistance, please contact the town clerk's office at 533-2911. If the office is closed, please leave a message, and your call will be returned. If your situation requires medical or police assistance, please contact the appropriate office.

After years of conducting a free clothing and household goods weekend, I decided last year to keep the recycling of items going year-round. Lorelei Wheeler does a wonderful job of keeping our small space organized. If you have clothing or household items in good condition, please consider donating them to the Giving Closet.

The Giving Closet

Lorelei Wheeler

The Giving Closet, located in the community room at the town hall, began with leftover clothes and toys from the 2008 clothing swap held at the Grange Hall.

At the Giving Closet you may find things you can use, things you like, or things you need, all for free. You can also donate items you no longer want or need. The main goal is to recycle and repurpose in the old Yankee tradition, keeping reusable stuff out of the waste stream.

Since the Giving Closet opened last year, its inventory, which changes from week to week, has grown by leaps and bounds. You can find a wide range of items there, including clothing, hardware, housewares, electronics, toys, books, linens, ski boots, and many other items. The number of patrons has grown, too: almost 30 people have visited on some Saturday mornings during recycling hours.

Donations are accepted during the hours the Giving Closet is open, 9-11 a.m. on Saturdays. Gently used items, clean and in good condition, are welcome. All electronics and appliances must work. Clothing should be clean and ready to wear.

Greensboro Emergency Planning Committee

Sally Lonegren

The main focus of the emergency preparedness committee this year has been preparation for the H1N1 flu virus. This has included publically displaying information about basic flu hygiene and gathering names of people willing to help, as well as organizing how that help could be implemented for people in need.

In the event of an emergency, Greensboro's fire chief will be the incident commander and head up the emergency chain-of-command. The fire department has multi-channel radios and equipment and training for various emergencies.

You can find Greensboro emergency preparedness manual at the town hall. It includes information about generators, "warming centers," and people willing to check on and help neighbors during emergencies. There is also an emergency preparedness booklet with guidance about food, medical items, and emergency lighting and heating supplies to have on hand. United Way (dial 211) can also help you prepare for emergencies. The staff at the town hall can answer questions of a non-emergency nature during office hours. Do call 911 in a real emergency.

We hope people will be willing to help those with food or heating emergencies this winter. Donation boxes for the Hardwick food shelf are located at Greensboro's UCC church and Willey's. Requests for food have risen this year, while federal and state funding has fallen off. The food shelf is in the Episcopal Church in Hardwick and is open Monday 12-2 p.m., Thursday 9-11 a.m., and Saturday 9-10 a.m.

Here are some telephone numbers for emergency resources. There are more local numbers on the last page of this town report.

Greensboro Energy Committee

Anne Stevens, Chair

The town energy committee has spent most of its time this year trying to bring the Greensboro Small Hydro Project closer to fruition. We are currently awaiting permission from the town of Hardwick or Hardwick Electric to do a couple of very small test borings on the beach. These are needed by our engineer to produce an accurate cost estimate. We are hoping to have permission from Hardwick in time to produce the cost estimate in the spring.

We have also sponsored a second Button Up Vermont public forum by an energy expert from Efficiency Vermont. A video of some of the energy efficiency improvements that homeowners could make to their houses is available to be borrowed from the library. Also in the library are a Kill-a-Watt meter and several books on energy efficiency and renewable energy.

GTEC was also a co-sponsor of local 350.org events on the international days of climate change awareness, October 24 and December 12, led internationally by Vermont's own Bill McKibben of Middlebury College. GTEC is an active participant in Hardwick Area Transitional Towns (HATTs).

A public informational forum was given by a representative from the Vermont Energy Investment Corporation (VEIC) on Clean Energy Assessment Districts (CEADs). This is a town bonding mechanism whereby renewable energy and efficiency projects can be paid for over 20 years, with the repayment attaching to the tax bill and staying with the house in event of sale. Further informational sessions will be given on this. If there is sufficient interest, a vote to implement must be made by town meeting. There is a PowerPoint on this, which can be requested from a member of the energy committee or at the town hall.

Finally, members of GTEC continued networking with other town energy committees and relevant state agencies through attendance at two annual renewable energy conferences.

GTEC is actively seeking new members. If you would like to be a part of this town committee, please contact Anne Stevens or the town hall.

Greensboro Conservation Commission

Elizabeth Métraux, Chair

The Greensboro Conservation Commission (GCC) is a statutory body whose members are appointed by the selectboard to provide leadership and guidance on issues relating to the protection of our community's natural resources. Active members are Elizabeth Métraux (Chair), Clive Gray (Clerk), Erika Karp (Treasurer), Phil Gray, Aaron Kromash, Mark McGrath, and David Métraux.

At the 2009 town meeting, the town approved $2,000 for the Greensboro Conservation Fund (GCF), bringing the total to $12,000.

Also at last year's town meeting, the GCC shared with the town our interest in a second collaboration with Sterling College to produce an updated guide to local agricultural products, entitled Buying Locally in Greensboro. The commission discussed the outcomes and benefits of the original project and decided that the most cost-effective method of synthesizing information on local products was through the town's website. This project has not yet been undertaken, but town officers have agreed to add this information to the site.

Lastly, the GCC is exploring publication of an illustrated guide to Greensboro's natural history, modeled on a similar project in Woodbury. We have discussed this project with the principal author of the Woodbury guide, who has expressed willingness to work with the GCC in such an endeavor.

As the GCC looks ahead to 2010, we anticipate ongoing cooperation with the Greensboro Land Trust, as well as new opportunities to collaborate with the Craftsbury Conservation Commission. With conservation initiatives flourishing in the Northeast Kingdom and across the state, the GCC is always open to working with the local community to promote conservation, appreciation of our natural history, and preservation of the environment.

In closing, we would like to express our gratitude to the community for the continued annual appropriation of $2,000 for the Greensboro Conservation Fund.

People for Lakeview Union School (PLUS)

Lorelei Wheeler

In 2009, the Lakeview Union School community began fundraising for a new playground structure. The existing one has been well-maintained and is still solid, but is almost 20 years old. The fundraising projects will continue until the $25,000 goal is reached. Currently, $2,700 is in the playground account, over 10 percent of the total needed. We are also looking at matching state grants and other incentives.

PLUS served lunch at the 2009 Greensboro town meeting, earning about $300. Two benefit family dances, a cookie dough sale, a wrapping paper campaign, and a Rada Cutlery sale also took place in 2009. Future efforts will include a raffle and a possible spaghetti dinner.

The redeemable bottle box at recycling continues to be a valuable income source for the group, averaging about $50 a week and swelling to over $100 a week in the summer months. Over 41,000 bottles and cans and 1000 liquor bottles were redeemed in 2009! Only containers that list VT deposit 5¢ or VT 15¢ (on liquor bottles) can be redeemed. Please put all wine bottles and noncarbonated drink containers in the recycling trailer. Plain water bottles, milk jugs, spaghetti sauce jars, empty food cans and plain jars may not be placed in the bottle box.

PLUS continues to fund whole-school field trips, including trips to the Great Vermont Corn Maze in Danville and IROC (Indoor Recreation of Orleans County) in Derby. Kindergarten and sixth-grade graduations are also supported by PLUS.

Based on equalized pupil numbers, the Vermont Department of Education has calculated the percentage of students from union districts that belong to the local district as compared to the union district. A tax rate is calculated at each level, then multiplied by the appropriate percentage to determine the tax rate for each budget, making a town school tax rate equal to 100 percent of the total pupils. Example: 4.97 percent equalized pupils are pre-K, 46.85 percent equalized pupils are K-6 attending Lakeview Union. and 48.19 percent equalized pupils are 7-12 attending Hazen Union.

Hardwick-Greensboro Police Department

Joseph Laporte, Chief

It was a milestone year for the Hardwick Police Department.

In early 2009, the Hardwick Police Department received a $12,550 homeland security grant to acquire two mobile laptop computers. The computers, mounted in the police cruisers, will allow the officers to create and upload police reports into the database system. The mobile computer terminals will provide officers with information without the need of going to the police station.

During 2009 the department hired two veteran officers from outside agencies to complement its staff. In June the department hired K-9 Officer Michael Glodgett. Officer Glodgett brings 13 years of police experience from Newport PD and the Orleans County Sheriff's Department. In October, Officer Kevin LaPlante joined the department as a part-time officer. Officer LaPlante had previously worked as an environmental police officer in northern Massachusetts since 1996. In December Officer LaPlante received a full-time waiver from the Vermont Criminal Justice Council.

In late July, the Hardwick Police Department obtained a COPS grant for $214,256. These funds are earmarked to pay for the salary and benefits of a new full-time police officer for the next three years. HPD was in the process of selecting a new officer to attend the February 2010 police academy when this report went to press.

The Hardwick Police Department also received a $29,651 Justice Assistance Grant (JAG) from the federal government. These funds are to be utilized for additional training and equipment. Some of the items the department has agreed to purchase include new computers, cell phones, and tasers. Nearly $3,000 has been set aside to implement a police athletic league program with students from Hazen Union High School. The town was able to use JAG funds to purchase Atos, a three-year-old German shepherd. Atos is the first HPD canine and is state-certified in narcotics detection and tracking.

We continue to maintain an excellent working relationship with the local agencies that provide social service to our community members. Anna Pirie and the staff at AWARE do an outstanding job. They are diligent in their efforts to educate the community and provide support to victims of domestic violence and sexual assault. Residents who need help are encouraged to contact AWARE at 472-6463.

It has been a pleasure to work with Erica Baker and her staff at the Hardwick Area Community Coalition. The coalition has been very instrumental in providing substance abuse education, awareness, and prevention to the children and young adults within the community. HPD, in partnership with the coalition, hosted the Not So Fast program, aimed at educating teenagers on safe driving. The coalition also coordinated monthly meetings on a variety of educational topics affecting the quality of life in the Hardwick-Greensboro area. Erica and her staff can be reached at 472-8010.

Carol Plante is the Director of the Hardwick-Greensboro Restorative Justice Program. The program is in its sixth year supported by a team of volunteers who serve the community by working with the victims of crime and those responsible for crime to find ways to make amends for the harm caused to individuals and the community. The program continues to be a success.

Hardwick-Greensboro Restorative Justice
Toll Free: 866-928-9808

Carol Plante, Director

The Hardwick-Greensboro Restorative Justice (HGRJ) served the community in 2008 and 2009 by finding ways to make amends for harm caused for low-level crimes committed in the community. There were 15 referrals to the Pre-charge and reparative probation programs with 13 people harmed by crime participating in the process. Twenty hours of community service were performed and 22 volunteers contributed 252 hours to the program. In its fifth year, the program also provided facilitation services for employee disputes, neighbor disputes, and conflict between students at Lamoille Union. Consultation was provided for a landlord-tenant dispute, a family conflict, and a dog nuisance issue.

With the support of HGRJ Citizens Advisory Board, the program conducted an outreach effort to the towns surrounding Hardwick and Greensboro to explore expanding the program. HGRJ collaborated with the Hazen Union REACH program to sponsor a community dinner and is currently mentoring a student at the school who is developing a restorative program for the school.

Greensboro Fire Department

Dave Brochu Sr., Chief

The Greensboro Fire Department responded to 34 calls during 2009:

Structure fires	4
Tree, brush, and grass fires	2
Station standby	1
Oven fires	1
Car accidents	6
Snow machine accidents	1
Smoke investigations	2
Smoke detector and alarm activations and malfunctions.....	10
Carbon monoxide alarm.....	3
Hazardous leaks and spills	3
Cancelled en route.....	1

Of these 34 calls, two were made to the town of Stannard, one for a carbon monoxide alarm and one for a structure fire. Two of the calls were made to help other departments in our mutual aid system.

Training continued in 2009, with members training two Thursdays each month in-house. The fire department also continued its fire safety training at the Lakeview Union Elementary School with a full response to the school to simulate an actual alarm.

Hardwick Emergency Rescue Squad

Deb LaRose, President

We are coming to the end of 2009 with 491 calls to-date, compared to 411 in 2008. This year we have held several first aid and CPR/AED classes, given H1N1 flu shots to local students, and participated in a mock mass casualty bus accident in Wolcott.

We have 24/7 coverage, thanks to the person in our paid position, established in 2004. We still recruit volunteers, however. Our volunteer members are continuing their education, and some have increased their certification level this year.

Please remember to keep an updated list of medications available, along with any other pertinent medical documents, in case you have to call an ambulance. Please make sure that your house numbers are visible from the road, too, no matter what the season or time or day.

We feel very fortunate to enjoy the outstanding support of our towns, road crews, fire departments, law enforcement, electric department, businesses, and community members.

Greensboro Free Library

Mary Metcalf, Librarian

The library has expanded! The renovations are completed, and an open house was held on July 4th with 83 commemorative T-shirts tie-dyed by our student patrons. The exterior is newly repaired and painted, the parking lot has more space, and the driveway is paved. When spring arrives, the bulbs and daylilies will blossom. There is now plenty of room for laptop users, meetings, and books. The upstairs, thanks to a lift, is accessible to handicapped patrons. There you will find a meeting room for 49 people as well as an ongoing book sale. Downstairs the librarian's office is now readily accessible, DVD's and VHS tapes are easily found, and patrons can sit by the fireplace on cold winter days and read the paper.

The library has a blog at <http://greensborofreelibrary.blogspot.com/> which lists all the new books purchased and other information. We encourage you to make comments on it. It also has a Facebook page.

Suzy Remington, Youth Services Librarian, offers story hours both at the library and at local day care centers. She is working extensively with Lakeview to provide kindergarten enrichment. A program for home-schoolers continues. The children wrote a play they performed at the annual chili dinner. Story hours are held weekly at Four Seasons Early Learning. Programs for children included Rob Mermin's Bubble Circus, TWA Mercer's drumming workshop, a Craftsbury Chamber Players concert, and Japanese children's songs. Doll-making and diorama-making workshops were also popular.

Families enjoyed a chili dinner in February and the annual mystery dinner in July. The library became an AARP tax center to assist patrons in filing their tax returns; call to make an appointment. Book discussions were held on Fahrenheit 451, The Emperor was Divine, China Road, Ceremony, The Spectator Bird and Water for Elephants. The Greensboro Arts and Alliance offered two play readings in the new upstairs meeting room. Call 802-533-2531 if your group would like to use the facility—like everything at the library, it's free.

As a community center, more than 13,000 visitors came to the library in 2009. Circulation of library materials was more than 31,000. Individuals with laptops accessed the internet in the library, on the porch, and in the parking lot. Others used the many public access computers. The library offers patrons access to the world.

Our volunteers make the programs and services possible. Without these friends, and the financial support of the Greensboro community, we could not keep the library open. We sincerely appreciate the continued support of the townspeople of Greensboro.

Greensboro Historical Society

Jenny Stoner, President

Thanks to the wonderful support of the town and over 200 households, the construction of expanded exhibit and storage space for the Greensboro Historical Society (GHS) is well underway. Phase I of our new building will be complete by early summer and, with only a small amount of additional help, we should be able to make good progress on the archival storage and work space as well.

We would like to especially thank the Greensboro selectboard, town clerk, and zoning administrator for working with us to fulfill some rather complex conditions of two grants we received.

While working hard to raise funds and plan the expansion, GHS continued to provide outstanding programs and services to the town. The semi-annual newsletter keeps the community informed of many events, and the annual journal, the Hazen Road Dispatch, now in its 34th year, is widely recognized for excellence in writing local history. If you missed the story on McFeeter's store by Anne Hanson or the one on Camp Ethan Allen by Clay Simpson, you'll want to stop in Willey's and get a copy.

Our winter program and summer exhibit both focused on Greensboro Bend and its role in making our town a thriving community. This topic energized a fine group of people with connections to the Bend and engaged the imaginations of the children at Lakeview Elementary School, who created a game, timeline and other aspects of the exhibit.

Four Seasons of Early Learning

Joanna Von Culin, Director

We have once again had a busy and exciting year here at the school. There have been quite a few challenges and many positive changes as well.

The economic downturn is hard on early learning. Funding early learning is sometimes viewed as either ‘unnecessary’ or as ‘taking away’ from elementary funding. Nothing could be further from the truth. The return on investment in early education is as high as 15-17 percent.⁵ It is simply more expensive to try to fix problems than to try to prevent them in the first place.

Economics don’t even address the emotional costs to children who don’t experience success in school. Children that enter kindergarten prepared to learn build a chain of success where each accomplishment begets another accomplishment. It is a spiral upwards instead of downwards.

Our aim is to enrich the whole child. Rather than building a narrow academic base, we work hard to make sure that every child is healthy and whole in every area – gross motor, fine motor, emotional, socially, and academically. This approach is clearly working, as indicated by a 97 percent proficiency rating in the work sampling system last spring. Anecdotally, we also hear from the local kindergarten teachers that our children are very well prepared.

To support our work, we’ve made some changes. The most obvious of these is the change of our name. The new name, Four Seasons of Early Learning, reflects our nature-based program.

We have moved to a more local assessment system, the Step Ahead Recognition System (STARS), promoted by the state of Vermont. This allows our program to be more specialized to our area and supports excellent early education. For every level the school achieves, there is a monetary incentive and a higher compensation rate for our subsidy-funded children.

We pursued and received an Early Education Initiative grant, enabling us to help children who would otherwise fall through the cracks. With this grant we can offer one free morning of preschool per week to eleven children.

We continue to trim our sails where we can in positive ways that both benefit our budget and the functioning of the school. Our community support continues to be strong, and we are always seeking more and creative ways to fund our endeavor.

One of the excellent things that came out of a strategic planning retreat this past summer was a recognition of the many strengths of our school. Children love coming here. We encourage a love of lifelong learning, even at this early age. We involve our families and our community. We are such a fixture in the community that we have staff here who attended the school as preschoolers! We provide full-day care, with an age range that allows young siblings to attend the same program, reducing stress on parents and providing continuity for the child. We are unique to the area in our emphasis on the natural world and in our holistic vision for each child.

Warren Hill moved to amend the Craftsbury Community Care Center to $5,000. The treasurer said that the financial impact on a $200,000 property would be about $6 per year. This motion was defeated.

Phil Gray moved to amend the Historical Society to $7,500. This motion was defeated.

The question was called. This motion passed on a voice vote. The main article passed as presented on a voice vote.

Representatives John Rodgers and John Morley spoke to the meeting and answered questions.

Article 7. Shall the town of Greensboro vote to raise, appropriate, and expend the sum of $200 for the support of the Hardwick Area Food Pantry, Inc., to provide services to residents of the Town?

Janet Long moved this article. It passed on voice vote.

Article 8. Shall the town of Greensboro appropriate $3,500 for the Greensboro Wonder and Wisdom's Senior Trotters program?

Article moved by Dave Smith and passed on a voice vote.

Article 9. Shall the town approve the proposed budget in the amount of $1,127,681.90, which contains the necessary amount required by law and proposed expenses for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 2009?

Anne Harbison moved Clive Gray seconded.

This discussion was contentious at times. The Selectboard was asked to explain what changes have been made for driveway plowing. Peter Gebbie explained that town equipment would not go outside the road right of way. He said that pushing back driveways would be done by the Brian Perry and Son, Inc., and is being done by them now.

The board was asked about the change in employees insurance. The change is to require employees to pay 5% of premium costs starting in July and all co pays and deductibles. In the following year 10% of premium costs would be picked up by the employees. Peter Gebbie said that the road crew was “fine with that.” The treasurer estimated the savings on a $200,000 property would be about $10.50 per year. The cost to a road employee would be around $2,000 per year.

A question was raised as to why the budget for the police in the Greensboro budget was so much higher than in the Hardwick budget. The treasurer explained that we would not have a final number from Hardwick until they voted at their town meeting. The number used was the last one they presented before the budget had to be finalized. Additionally, the cost of dispatch and a share in a new cruiser had to be budgeted.

The budget article passed on voice vote.

- Article 10. Shall the town vote to instruct the selectboard to set the tax rate necessary to raise the specific amounts for the town and the amount necessary to raise by law for the Hazen Union School District No. 26 and the Lakeview Union School District No. 43 based on the FY2010 Grand Lists? Taxes will be delinquent after Thursday, October 15, 2009.

Moved by Dave Smith and passed on voice vote.

- Article 11. Shall the town instruct the selectboard to borrow money in anticipation of taxes?

Moved by Dave Smith. Passed on voice vote.

- Article 12. Shall the town school district approve the proposed budget, which contains the necessary amounts to defray town school district expenses for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 2009, and authorize the selectboard to set a tax rate sufficient to provide the same? Taxes will be delinquent after Thursday, October 15, 2009.

Moved by Dave Smith. Wayne Young, school director, said that the Greensboro budget is minimal, with the assessments for the two Union districts being the major cost. Passed on voice vote.

- Article 13. Shall the town school district authorize the school directors to borrow money in anticipation of taxes and state revenues?

Ed Karp moved this article and it passed on a voice vote.

- Article 14. Shall the voters of the town of Greensboro request the Vermont Legislature to:

1. Recognize that the 2% of our New England region's power grid supply that is provided by Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Plant can be replaced with a combination of local, renewable electricity and efficiency measures, along with the purchase of hydro generated electricity, and excess power already in the New England electricity market;

2. Given the viable alternatives and the risks posed by continued operation, ensure that Vermont Yankee will cease operation in March 2012, after having completed its 40 year design life by not granting approval for operation of the plant after that date and by not determining that further operation will promote the general welfare;
3. Hold the Entergy Corporation, which purchased Vermont Yankee in 2002, responsible to fully fund the plant's clean-up and decommissioning when the reactor closes, as the corporation pledged to do when it purchased Vermont Yankee.

Sally Lonegren moved this article. The discussion was quite polarized. There was a motion to call the question which passed. The motion passed as presented.

Article 15. To transact any other business that may legally come before the meeting.

Wayne Young told us about his solar panels and said Hardwick electric needs to be more open to green projects. Anne talked about small hydro project. Peter Gebbie talked about his windmill and proposed methane digester.

Warren Hill, who is on the Hardwick Electric Department board, said they aren't anti-green at HED.

The town offered a vote of thanks to Sharleen Speir for her years of service as a dispatcher.

The meeting adjourned at 4:01 p.m.
